

My Mother, Madame Edwarda and the Dead Man

In these three works of erotic prose Georges Bataille fuses sex and spirituality in a highly personal and philosophical vision of the self. My Mother is a frank and intense depiction of a young mans sexual initiation and corruption by his mother, where the profane becomes sacred, and intense experience is shown as the only way to transcend the boundaries of society and morality. Madame Edwarda is the story of a prostitute who calls herself God, and The Dead Man, published in 1964 after Batailles death, is a startling short tale of cruelty and desire. This volume also contains Batailles own introductions to his texts as well as essays by Yukio Mishima and Ken Hollings.
