

Time Will Tell

***New edition released May 2015 with editorial changes and revised for a national audience*** Undercover operative Jason Wright and his partner Kamal were left for dead in Iran---casualties of a war on terror. But Jason survived and hes out for revenge. Hes selling his countrys secrets to the highest bidder and he doesnt care who gets it---as long as he gets paid and Kamals death is avenged. Andrew Blythe, a Canadian CSIS agent, races against time to stop the information exchange, knowing that a dangerous terrorist organization will use it to gain control of the Baku oil leases in the Caspian Sea. With those leases, they will be able to finance a weapon of mass destruction---and kill thousands of innocent people. But things dont go as planned and Andrew finds himself wounded and on the run, unsure of who to trust. Desperate, he takes Ashton Carlsons car, and pulls her into the web of espionage that is tightening like a noose around him. Forced to keep her with him for safety's sake, Andrew isnt prepared for the feelings she stirs in him. But with danger around every turn, Andrew knows time is running out for both of them. Can he stop the terrorists plans and keep Ashton from being killed? Or will he have to make the ultimate sacrifice to save them all?
