

The 2011 Import and Export Market for Composition- or Film-Type Fixed Carbon Electrical Resistors in Singapore

On the demand side, exporters and strategic planners focusing on composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors in Singapore face a number of questions. Which countries are supplying composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors to Singapore? How important is Singapore compared to others in terms of the entire global and regional market? How much do the imports of composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors vary from one country of origin to another in Singapore? On the supply side, Singapore also exports composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors. Which countries receive the most exports from Singapore? How are these exports concentrated across buyers? What is the value of these exports and which countries are the largest buyers? This report was created for strategic planners, international marketing executives and import/export managers who are concerned with the market for composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors in Singapore. With the globalization of this market, managers can no longer be contented with a local view. Nor can managers be contented with out-of-date statistics which appear several years after the fact. I have developed a methodology, based on macroeconomic and trade models, to estimate the market for composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors for those countries serving Singapore via exports, or supplying from Singapore via imports. It does so for the current year based on a variety of key historical indicators and econometric models. In what follows, Chapter 2 begins by summarizing where Singapore fits into the world market for imported and exported composition- or film-type fixed carbon electrical resistors. The total level of imports and exports on a worldwide basis, and those for Singapore in particular, is estimated using a model which aggregates across over 150 key country markets and projects these to
