

Creep

Pulsing with the dark obsession of Radioheads song Creep, this taut thriller Jennifer Hilliers superb debut rockets from its seductive opening to a heartpounding climax not easily forgotten. If he cant have her . . . Dr. Sheila Tao is a professor of psychology. An expert in human behavior. And when she began an affair with sexy, charming graduate student Ethan Wolfe, she knew she was playing with fire. Consumed by lust when they were together, riddled with guilt when they werent, she knows the three-month fling with her teaching assistant has to end. After all, shes finally engaged to a kind and loving investment banker who adores her, and shes taking control of her life. But when she attempts to end the affair, Ethan Wolfe wont let her walk away. . . . no one else can. Ethan has plans for Sheila, plans that involve posting a sex video that would surely get her fired and destroy her prestigious career. Plans to make her pay for rejecting him. And as she attempts to counter his every threatening move without her colleagues or her fiance discovering her most intimate secrets, a shattering crime rocks Puget Sound State University: a female student, a star athlete, is found stabbed to death. Someone is raising the stakes of violence, sex, and blackmail . . . and before she knows it, Sheila is caught in a terrifying cat-and-mouse game with the lover she couldnt resist who is now the monster who wont let her go.
