

A Million Thanks

In March 2004, high school freshman Shauna Fleming invited 1,100 schoolmates to join her in A Million Thanks, a campaign to collect and distribute one million letters of appreciation to current and past military men and women at home and overseas. Within six months, she received the one millionth letter. Since then, she has raised her goal to 1.4 million letters, one for each member of the U.S. armed services. A Million Thanks tells the story of Shaunas remarkable achievement and serves as an inspiration to each of us. After you read the letters inside this book no matter how grateful you already are youll have a renewed admiration and respect for the men and women who are risking their lives for us. From the Hardcover edition.
