Excerpt from Memorial Addresses on the Life and Character of James Sumner: Delivered at Commercial Hall, 694 Washington Street, Boston, November 10, 1895; With His Last Public Address Give me the storm and tempest of thought and action rather than the dead calm of ignorance and faith; banish me from Eden when you will; but first let me eat of the tree of knowledge. - R. G. Ingersoll. Labor is the prime factor in all of the concerns of life, and is, therefore, noble and holy. All legislation, state or national, should, and must, sooner or later, concede its pre-eminent rank, its dignity and the nobility of all who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. - James Sumner.
