

They Wear What Under Their Kilts?

Sixteen-year-old Emily spends her month of work experience on a Scottish sheep farm, complete with wild sheep (who seem determined to do her in), her best friend Holly (who challenges her to a contest to see who can snog the local hottie first), and Ruaraidh the shepherd, AKA the Scottish God of Love who just happens to have eleven fingers. Kilt-watching, disastrous castle tours, graffiti spraypainted sheep, and tanning lotions gone horribly awry its just another month in the life of Emily. Subject: Emilys Glossary for People Who Havent Been to Scotland From: Mrs.Legolas@kiltnet.com To: Dru@seattlegrrl.com

Faffing about: running around doing nothing. In other words, spending a month supposedly doing work experience on a Scottish sheep farm, but really spending days on Kilt Watch at the nearest castle. Schottie: Scottish Hottie, also known as Ruaraidh, the subject of much drooling and first prize in the Who Can Snog Him First contest. Mad schnoogles: the British way of saying big smoochy kisses. Will admit it sounds v. smart to say it that way. V.: very. Using it abbreviated is coolio to the third power. Bunch of yobbos: a group of mindless idiots. In Scotland, can also mean sheep. You can take it from methere is nothing stupider than a sheep, especially when youre trying to make them take their liver medicine. Stooshie: uproar, as in If Holly thinks she can take Ruaraidh from me without causing a stooshie, shes out of her mind! Sheep dip: not an appetizer.
